After school activities (p. 9)

Speaker:

After school activities, page 9

You are going to listen to six teenagers talking about their after school activities.

Choose the correct answer. Write the number on the line. There will be three activities left.

Speaker: Number 1 Laetitia

Girl Br.E:

I sometimes take care of my sister's dog when I come home from school, but I also like to go with my friends to the indoor swimming pool. We go there by bus, once a month. We always swim a couple of rounds, but we also play a lot in the pool. I think I want to practise swimming once a week next year. It's nice to move around in the water and you always feel happy after swimming, I think.

Speaker: Number 2 Rami

Boy Am.E:

As long as I can remember I've liked to do moves in front of the mirror. When I was four, my grandmother took me to a dance studio and I started taking ballet classes. Now I take part in all kinds of classes like jazz, ballet, modern expression. I practise 5 times a week. On Mondays and Thursdays I get up at 5.30 and go to practice before school. On Tuesdays and Fridays practice starts at 7 in the evening and on Sundays we have practice in the morning. Most Sunday evenings we also take part in shows, like musicals or modern dance shows. I love musicals.

Speaker: Number 3 Tom

Boy Br.E:

Mum says I am a very creative child - I'm not sure she always thinks that's a good thing. Anyway, I love colours and I love to paint. Sometimes I paint on paper, but more and more I use the computer. There are a lot of programmes and apps online where you can paint and then print out your painting. Mum likes when I do my paintings on the computer. Guess why! Well, painting with colours, water and brushes makes my room a real mess.

Speaker: Number 4 Sandy

Girl Am.E:

When I take an important test in school, I don't panic. If I don't know an answer, I take a few seconds to breathe deeply and focus—this I've learned from practising yoga.

I started yoga classes when I was 14 to get some physical training and to relax. Now I go there three times a week. It's a break from everything else. Yoga gives me energy and motivation. I feel strong and balanced, a feeling I keep until next time I go to the yoga class.

Speaker: Number 5 Miranda

Girl Br.E:

It all started when I was seven. I visited one of my older cousins who had turned fourteen that year. He had started a band with some friends and they were trying out some songs. I went downstairs to his room and they asked me to play the drums. I was in heaven, I guess they were not. It sounded awful but I felt like a real rock star. Nowadays I don't play drums. My parents wouldn't let me – and I think I'm rather happy with that. Instead I play the flute and the violin – pretty different from drums, don't you think?

Speaker: Number 6 Leo

Boy Br.E:

Today I'm in a hurry. School finishes at 3. Then I'm going to my dad's sister, my aunt, to pick her daughter up, my cousin. I pick her up every Wednesday. Her name is Emma and she's four years old and very funny to be with. I'll fix sandwiches and milk and at six Dad will come home and cook dinner for us. Emma asks all kinds of questions. We build Lego, play games and she especially likes when we read books together. I like that too.

How do I get there? (p. 12)

How do I get there?, page 12

Make sure you know the words in the box before you listen.

go straight on

turn right

take the second right

next to opposite

go past the traffic lights

a roundabout

Listen to the instructions and find out where you are.

A. Go straight on. Go past the traffic lights. You'll see a book shop on the right. Go past that and it's on the right next to the book shop.

B. Go straight on. Then take the first left on to Slippery Lane. At the roundabout turn left. Go past the Indian Restaurant. It's the building next to the Indian Restaurant.

C. Go straight on. Go past the traffic lights and go straight on. Take the second left onto Queens Road. Go past the supermarket. It's the building next to the supermarket opposite the theatre.

D. Go straight on. Go past the traffic lights and take the first left onto Slippery Lane. At the roundabout turn right. Go past the library and the cinema. Turn left onto Queen's Road. Go past the Underground Station. It's the building opposite the bus station.

Things to do on a 'staycation'– Part one (p. 27)

Things to do on a 'staycation'– part one, page 27

Boring holidays at home? No! There are plenty of things to do. Listen and find out.

You will hear four people talking about their 'staycation'. Match pictures and numbers. There will be two pictures left.

Speaker: Number 1

Girl Am.E:

My family love spending time outdoors. Imagine if it was possible to do that up in a tree. I'm going to build a hut in a big tree at my grand parents' house this summer. What about a small green house with yellow windows?

Speaker: Number 2

Boy Am.E:

This holiday I've challenged myself to read one novel a day for five days. I've decided to go through a couple of good stories that I've just heard about but never read.

Speaker: Number 3

young female Br.E:

Winter or summer doesn't matter. It's always nice to pack a big bag of food and something nice to drink - cold lemonade in the summer and hot chocolate in the winter. I invite some friends, find a nice place and take something to sit on.

Speaker: Number 4

young male Br.E:

When I don't know what to do I put on some nice clothes and my sun glasses. Then I go downtown to a café. I buy something to drink and sit there watching people, pretending I'm in the city on a holiday. Then I check out some interesting attractions like a museum or the old town in our city.

Boy Br.E:

Hi! My name's Simon and I'm 13 years old.

I'm going to tell you about last summer. This is what happened:

The first day of my summer holiday it started raining. And it rained the next day. And the day after. The rainy days went on and on, so after a couple of days me and some friends made a list of twenty things to do on a rainy day. Then we started to do the things we'd put down on the list. I'll tell you about some of them:

Now listen to what Simon and his friends put down on their list:

Boy Br.E:

Get the bike out. Put on rain jackets and go for a long ride on your bikes. Take food, a map and some small plastic bags in case you find interesting stuff on the way. We put some funny stones and a dead spider in our bags.

Boy Br.E:

Visit museums. We decided to visit as many museums as possible in two days, and then we made a web site about our museum tour with facts about the museums and the most interesting things we found there. We visited six museums. Most museums were fun and I especially liked the old Egyptian mummies at the Museum of World Cultures. The mummies are about 3000 years old.

Boy Br.E:

Draw a map and hide a treasure. By the middle of July the rainy days had ended and the sun was shining, so we planned a treasure hunt – you know, when you draw a map for someone, give instructions, and they go out and try to find the treasure – something you've hidden in a box somewhere. I hid some old clothes in my treasure box, a T-shirt, a pair of shorts and some socks. My friends didn't like the treasure at all, I don't understand why. (Ha-ha.)

Boy Br.E:

Play minigolf. When the rain ended, we went to the miniature golf course. We started a tournament among friends. Everybody was supposed to buy an ice-cream for the winner of the tournament. We were eleven friends playing in the tournament. I didn't win, but my best friend David did. He ate too much ice-cream and felt really sick. For the next tournament we'll buy candy instead.

Boy Br.E:

Call a friend! Call someone you don't usually hang out with - if you dare. Who knows – you may have a lot in common. I called one of my friends from primary school. I haven't seen him since we were seven. Now he is great at skateboarding and taught me how to do a lot of fun tricks.
